

BODY EXFOLIATE

STRONG GELSCRUB WITH NATURAL MICROGRANULES AND GLYCOLIC ACID

Scrub with a gel texture that performs a dual exfoliating action: the presence of Natural Microgranules promotes effective mechanical exfoliation, capable of removing superficial skin impurities and stimulating natural cell turnover; on the contrary, Glycolic Acid stimulates chemical exfoliation, promoting the production of collagen and elastin, giving firmness and smoothness to the skin. The formula is enriched with soothing ingredients to control and avoid skin irritation and redness caused by the exfoliating action of the scrub.

What skin type and at what age?

Strong Gelscrub is indicated for resistant skins not subject to capillary fragility, as it carries out an intense exfoliating action. It is not recommended to use the product during the summer, as Glycolic Acid is a highly photosensitive exfoliating acid and exposure to the sun after use could cause irritation and skin damage.

How to use?

1. Mix the product carefully before proceeding with use in order to uniform the solution and obtain a homogeneous compound.
2. Apply to damp skin and massage delicately with circular movements proceeding from the bottom upwards for 5-10 minutes.
3. Optional: use the body massage brushes (V280G or V281G) to make the exfoliation even more intense.
4. Rinse thoroughly with warm water and proceed with the application of the usual body cream.

Focus on

NATURAL MICROGRANULES: vegetable microgranules derived from cellulose obtained from trees. Their natural smoothing action gently exfoliates the skin.

GLYCOLIC ACID: Glycolic Acid is a naturally occurring acid derived from sugar cane and other plants, it is used in skin exfoliating treatments as it stimulates and promotes natural skin exfoliation.

MARINE COLLAGEN: thanks to the remarkable affinity with the structure of human collagen, marine collagen binds to the skin keratin layers, retaining water molecules and giving the skin surface a smoother and turgid appearance.

PANTHENOL: also known as Vitamin B5, is characterized by regenerating and soothing properties, keeping the skin elastic and protected.

HAMAMELIS WATER: soothing floral extract suitable for even the most sensitive skin, given its excellent soothing properties.
